French Knot

Does not cover an Aida square; Begins in one hole; ends near that hole. It is important to see that Aida fabric is woven with fibers; four fibers woven through four fibers make up one Aida square. To begin, insert needle where chart indicates. Hold thread taut. Starting at the base of the thread extending from the hole, wrap the thread once around the needle, as diagrammed, spiraling up, away from the fabric. Hold the remaining thread firmly near the hole. Re-insert the needle one thread over from the original hole, continuing to hold thread firmly until all excess is pulled through.

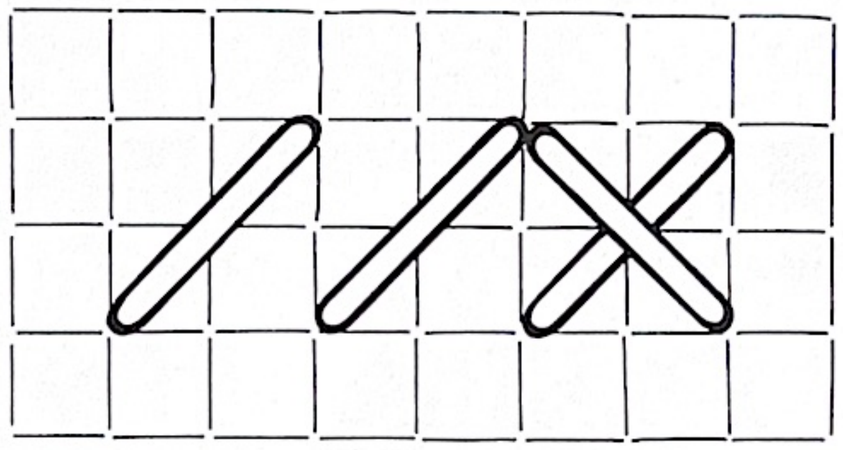
Stitching Over Two Threads



Stitching Over Two Threads:
When the directions call for Stitching Over Two, you should follow this diagram. Stitching Over Two Threads refers to crossing your stitches over two threads instead of one. (Both ways). Each square on the graph equals two threads vertically and two threads horizontally.

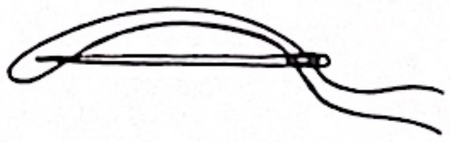
Balger® Blending Filament Threading Technique

Every fiber has a different degree of elasticity or tension. When using two different fiber types together or simultaneously control is essential. In order to achieve this control and insure uniformity in stitching, knotting the Balger® Metallic Blending Filament on to the needle is recommended.

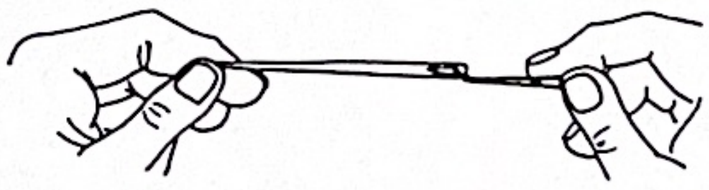
Knot the Blending Filament only on the needle as shown in the diagram. Then add silk, cotton or any other type of floss or yarn desired and stitch.

#1 Loop yarn; pass loop through eye of needle. Leave a 2" tail.

#2 Pull loop over end of needle.



#3 Tighten loop at end of eye.



#4 Gently stroke the knotted yarn once to "lock" it in place.
